

HACK ARIZONA 2019 - TERMS AND CONDITIONS

* ALL ATTENDEES MUST AGREE TO THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS ****

Eligibility: The Hackathon is open to individuals (i) who are at least eighteen years old and (ii) who are invited to participate in the Hackathon. Participation in the Hackathon constitutes Participant's full and unconditional agreement to and acceptance of these Terms and Conditions ("Terms"). The term "you" refers to you, the "Participant".

Governing Law: These Terms and Conditions are governed and interpreted by the laws of the State of Arizona.

Sole Ownership

Intellectual Property Rights: Each Participant shall retain ownership of all intellectual property rights in each Eligible Entry (and moral rights), additionally subject to the MLH's Code of Conduct and this agreement.

Anti-Harassment and Non-Discrimination Policy

In agreement to this document, the Participant will also be agreeing to the University of Arizona's policy on Anti-Harassment and Non-Discrimination. Please refer to the University of Arizona's Policy for further questions.

Privacy Statement

Collecting Your Personal Information: In order to register for and participate in the Hackathon, we (Hack Arizona, Inc.) will require you to provide us with personal information. This information may include contact data and other information such your name, email address, cell phone number, job title, and/or gender. If you register, communicate with us by email through any links, or otherwise complete online forms or otherwise submit information through the Site, any information provided in such communication may be collected. Hack Arizona may receive such information directly from you and/or through others involved in the administration of the Hackathon (such as from Third Party Providers and/or other Participants).

Choice of Personal Information Collection: You may choose not to provide any individual information. In such an event, you may not be able to complete a registration for the Hackathon or access or use those portions of our site that require you to have completed registration or otherwise provided such individual information.

Information Collected: We will use information collected from you for: enable your registration for and participation in the Hackathon, and provide information to you about the Hackathon. Further uses include: contacting you and others as contemplated under the MLH's Terms and Conditions, and monitoring and ensuring your compliance with the Terms and Conditions.

HACK ARIZONA 2019 - TERMS AND CONDITIONS

* ALL ATTENDEES MUST AGREE TO THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS ****

We may also use and share your information with third parties as needed for purposes of your participation in the Hackathon (which could include, but is not limited to, communicating with Third Party Providers or other third parties regarding your registration, judging and scoring, and the awarding and provision of prizes).

Regarding any of your personally identifiable information collected by Hack Arizona through the competition, Hack Arizona will not sell or rent such personal information to third parties for their own commercial purposes.

If Hack Arizona is requested by law enforcement officials or judicial authorities to provide information on individual users, we may, without your consent, provide such information. In any matters involving claims of personal or public safety (as determined by the Hack Arizona team in its sole discretion). Hack Arizona may provide your personal information to appropriate authorities without your consent or court process. Hack Arizona may also use your information to enforce Hack Arizona's rights, including but not limited to enforcing the MLH's Code of Conduct. Hack Arizona will not reveal your personal information to third parties except in the ways described in this Privacy Statement.

Additional Information

Cost: This is a free event.

Travel, lodging and refreshments: You are responsible for your own travel and accommodation arrangements and for covering costs and expenses in connection with your participation in the Hackathon. However, we do allow for sleeping accommodations at the event site. In addition, we will provide meals and drinks throughout the course of the event.

Taxes: All federal, state, and local taxes, as well as any other costs and expenses associated with acceptance and use of the Prize are the responsibility of the potential winning team.

Winnings Distribution: Hack Arizona is not responsible for any post-hoc claims to prize money allocations amongst teams and their individuals; and the distribution of prizes sometimes exists as a relationship between the teams and our corporate sponsors, rather than as a relationship between the teams and Hack Arizona. Choices regarding prize distribution amongst winning teams must be decided between team members prior to or after winning certain prizes in competition. Conflicts should be determined or remedied internally between team members.